CITY STARTS FIGHT FOR STATE HIGHWAY

Stevens Point Presses Claims For Recognition In Deciding Trunk

Stevens Point, the hub of Wisconsin and county seat of Portage counmade a "flagging station" on the new state trunk line system of highways -not without a fight.

This fact developed last week, when after learning that the system tentatively agreed upon was contrary to all expectations, decided to take the initiative in asserting the city's rights before the highway commission and the legislative committee, which have been conducting joint hearings in various parts of the state for several

One of the tentative trunk lines extends from Madison to Wausau and Merrill and points north, and it is understood that the highway commission is thoroughly committed to routing this through Stevens Point. Wausau, Merrill, Plainfield, Portage and every other center of population on this route are strongly in favor of this north and south road passing through Stevens Point and it is believed there is little or no doubt that this route will be adhered to.

The real fight is on that portion of the proposed system that will eventually be part of the main line between the twin cities and Chicago -the most important line of all and one that in future years will undoubtelly be a favorite route for thousands of tourists annually. This line, in the tentative system, does not take in Stevens Point, but runs from Waupaca to Plover, Grand Rapids and Pittsville and to within five miles of Marshfield, where it turns west to Neillsville and thence northwest.

That Wood county residents employed a considerable amount of foresight in their bid for this road through Grand Rapids is indicated by the fact that the county trunk line system was laid out from Grand Rapids to Marshfield via Pittsville and that this is now, as Chief Inspector Donaghey of the state highway commission said last Friday evening, the best dirt road in the state. This, apparently, tween Waupaca and Marshfield.

Stevens Point wants the line to follow the Yellowstone Trail from Waupaca to Marshfield by way of this city, touching Amherst, Amherst Junction, Custer, Stockton, Junction City, Milladore. Auburndale, Sherry and Hewitt. This is 11 miles shorter much more thickly settled and includes a large percentage of the taxable property of the county. The territory is also being developed wonderfully, particularly between Stevens Point and Marshfield. Stevens Point people contend that this is also the natural and logical route. They also point out that Stevens Point and Marshfield are entitled to direct connections if only because of the fact that their combined population is 19,000. Stevens Point, they argue, has grown from 9,000 to more than 12,000 in five years, or 30'c. a record no other central Wisconsin city has made in the same period. It is the gateway of the great northern country and that it will grow in size and importance as years pass, owing to its many advantages, natural and otherwise, is assured. Stevens Point will put up a finish fight for justice in the laying out of tain that this city will have the support of Assemblyman Woodard of Chippewa county, author of the trunk it to the city council. line highway bill enacted by the last

Another Soo line special train carrying soldiers will pass through Stevens Point at about midnight tonight. The train will carry about 300 Michigan soldiers, enroute from Ashland and Superior, but its destination is unknown among local railroad officials. It will be made up in two parts, of four tourist cars and two baggage cars each, at Superior and Ashland, and will be consolidated at Spencer. The soldiers are understood to have been stationed at the northern cities.

Portage County Young Man Writes Encouragingly of Life At Camp Grant

"We all arrived in camp on time and are well along on the road to Berlin," said Alvin O. Anderson, one last week, in a letter to The Gazette. Mr. Anderson, who was captain of the in alleviating pain and suffering. Portage county contingent, has been assigned to Co. K. 341st infantry, which is made up largely of Portage county men.

"We have met several friends and all seem to be in good spirits and crjoying army life." Mr. Anderson continued. "We were also surprised at the size of the camp and the amount of work which is being done for us. On the whole it is all good and we feel sure we will like this life and come back a lot better for our training here and work elsewhere."

Pioneer Wisconsin Physician, Widely Known Throughout State, Passes Out

Dr. Thomas P. Russell, probably the oldest practicing physician in Wisconsin and who was extensively acquainted in a social and professional way in Stevens Point and many other sections of the state, died at his home in Oshkosh last Friday night after an illness of but a single day.

Dr. Russell was ninety-three years of age on April 19 and was active almost until his death. He died as a result of heart failure, which followed an attack of bowel trouble early Friday morning. The transition from life to death was most peaceful, as if he had closed his eyes in sleep.

Dr. Russell was a New Englander having been born at Bethel, Vermont. He was graduated from Vermont Medical college in 1852. He then practiced for two years at Weston, in his home state, following which he came to Oshkosh. He was twice marchildren, only one, Thomas C. Russell

Dr. Russel saw about three years service in the civil war. He was appointed assistant surgeon of the Second Wisconsin Infantry and later served in the same capacity with the professional tests. He will receive First Wisconsin cavalry. After his a commission as lieutenant or captain discharge for disability he returned to Oshkosh and resumed his practice, which he had ever since conducted, although as old age came upon him he was obliged to relinquish some of his general work. His practice covered a goodly portion of the state, and even in recent years he was a frequent visitor to Stevens Point and vicinity. In the early days his services were greatly in demand in this city and he was a familiar figure here.

Dr. Russell was not only a skilled physician and surgeon, but a man of many personal qualities that made hospital in Stevens Point was begun him beloved and respected. He was simple and modest in his ways and of the Portage county honor men who found in his work the greatest satiswent to Camp Grant, Rockford. The funeral, in respect to Dr. Russell's own wishes, was of a private nature. The service was conducted at the home Monday afternoon, Rev. E. W. Todd of Trinity Episcopal church officiating.

Dr. Russell was an intimate friend of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Curran of this city and Mrs. Curran was among those who attended the funeral.

FIRST SNOW APPEARS

This section of the state had its first snowfall of the season Tuesday. At about 8 o'clock in the morning the flakes began to appear and soon became so numerous that they gave every appearance of a mid-winter storm. Although at first the flakes melted almost as soon as they reached the earth, they later covered the ground in exposed places. The fall continued well into the evening, but today all signs of it have vanished, except the surface water that resulted.

Two Paper Mill Companies Contribute $500 Each to Wipe Out Hospital Deficit

When the movement that resulted in the establishment of St. Michael's some six years ago an organization known as the City Hospital association was formed. A fund raising campaign was conducted and the hospital built, after which it was turned over to the Sisters of the Sorrowful mother, who have since conducted it.

The old association, at the time the transfer was made, assumed obligation for an indebtedness on the building, in the form of a note at a local bank. Since then various means to wipe out the debt have been tried, but there still remains about $2,400 to be paid, including interest. That this deficit will soon be taken care of is now almost a certainty, as announcement has just been made that the Whiting-Plover Paper Co. and the Wisconsin River Paper & Pulp Co, have each contributed $500 to apply on the note. WILL BAKER IS DEAD

Long Time Resident of Portage County Answers Final Summons at Home in Idaho

It is with deep regret we announce the death of William A. Baker, for up wards of forty years a resident of this city or county, but who went west; in 1905 and had since been located; on a ranch near Wilder, Idaho. His postoffice address was Parma, Idaho, from where mail deliveries were made by rural route.

Mr. Baker passed away last Friday morning, following a long illness with Bright's disease. In June his condition was very serious and his brother, W. B. Baker, went out from McDill, but William rallied somewhat thereafter and hopes were entertained for a time that he might get better.

Mr. Baker was a native of Brookfield, Tioga county, Penn., where he was born 64 years ago last April. his father, Harvey Baker, came west with the family in 1863 and located in the toy, of Place. Michael Scanlan was born in Ireland, April 28, 1838, and died at his home here Oct. 4th at 1:00 p. m., aged 79 years, 5 months and 6 days.

At the age of five years he came with his father to New York state, where he grew to young manhood. From there he moved to Berlin, Wis., where during the Civil war he enlisted in the Third Wisconsin light artillery, serving three years. He was wounded at Peach Tree Creek, Georgia. After six more years in Stevens Point they moved in 1873 to Buena Vista, which has been the family home ever since. Mr. Scanlan's wife preceded him in death, passing away January 27, 1904.

To them were born eight children, Mrs. Mary Cater of Chicago, Mrs. Anna Upthagrove of Alberta, Minn., Asa of Keene, John of Long Beach, Lone Pine and Georgia, at home. One son, Louis, died at the age of 14 years. All the children except the one from California were present at the Additional sadness is added to the occasion by the fact that Mrs. Upthagrove, who came from her Minnesota home to remain for some time and who lost her husband in a railroad accident, about a year ago, brought with her on a cot her young daughter, who is very low with tuberculosis.

Romances of Dollars Saved

We had a man in our office who never believed in saving money. His excuse was that on account of having a family to provide for there never was a chance to save enough to amount to anything.

His wife, a very thrifty woman, always wanted to save a little money. She never could face a regular bank with the small amount saved at the end of a week. A friend of hers came to the house one evening and showed her how it was possible to deposit a small amount every week in a weekly savings account.

The wife, with the aid of her friend, started the account. Every week found her at the teller's window with $100. At the end of a year she received her check, but instead of spending it, she deposited it again. One afternoon her husband, while working, was stricken suddenly with a severe illness. He came under the working-men's compensation act and his pay stopped. It would be two weeks before the insurance company would start to pay the family any relief. Worry made the husband worse, until his wife told him the story of her little savings account that would keep them till he was better. After two months' illness the sick man was able to go back to the office. He has managed to put a little in the
